

Protocol Registration (PR) – Live Webinar Training Sessions

About this Training

This session includes training on the DAIDS Protocol Registration Policy and Manual. This does not include training on the web-based DAIDS Protocol Registration System (DPRS).

The PR live webinar training session will elucidate current PR requirements as described in the new PR Policy and Manual.

The deadline for compliance with the new Policy and Manual is November 01, 2010.

Training Objectives

- Familiarize attendees with the scope and purpose of the new PR Policy and Manual
- Support timely compliance with PR submission requirements
- Help participants understand and locate PR requirements for translation of specific regulatory documents

DAIDS CRS Training Team

This project has been funded in whole or in part with Federal funds from the Division of AIDS (DAIDS), National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, National Institutes of Health, Department of Health and Human Services, under contract No. N01-AI-50022, entitled HIV Clinical Research Support (CRS) Services.

On behalf of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID) Division of AIDS (DAIDS), we would like to invite you to attend a Protocol Registration (PR) Live Webinar training session. Objectives for this training session are listed to the left.

For a schedule of training dates and times please visit the DAIDS PR Policy and Manual training website.

Electronic Registration

Electronic registration is available; please note: registration will end three business days prior to each training session.

NIAID (DAIDS) supported and/or sponsored clinical research project site staff will receive first priority for webinar registration and attendance. If space is available, we will open registration to other NIAID/NIH supported and/or sponsored research projects.

Webinar Resources

Please refer to the PR website Resources page to obtain instructions for using the webcast technology and to download and review required materials prior to your session.
